Marty Sternstein is a Professor of Mathematics at Ithaca College where he has taught since 1970, except for one year as Visiting Professor and Head of the Math Department at the University of the Virgin Islands, St. Croix, and two years as Fulbright Professor and Math Department Chair at the University of Liberia in West Africa. He has written textbooks in Calculus and Statistics, has been honored with numerous teaching awards, and has developed new curricula, including an ethno-mathematics class, "Math in Africa," and the first U.S. course for college credit in chess theory. Marty has strong interests in national educational and social issues concerning equal access to math education for all.

really helped prepare for the ap test, very nice to refer to while taking the course as well, teachet recommended, very glad we purchased!

As per being a high school student i have progressed a lot due to the detailed and fine explanations by this book. Its one of the best i have used and is definitely my savior for this school year. I HIGHLY recommend this book for any student trying to learn AP Stats.

Helped High School Student to score a "5". Would definitely recommend this.

I give it 4 stars cause a 4 is what my students got with this book.

It helped me get ready for class

i got a 4 on the AP test, ill take it :D

Excellent

Good book but 10/10 would not take this class again. Maybe the hardest thing iv ever done
