Synopsis

www.BigChineseWorkbook.com Designed for kids living in English speaking countries and/or regions, Chinese heritage or non-Chinese heritage. Fulfilled with fun activities that provide training in early writing skills including 22 most commonly used semantic radicals, language skills such as time, weather, and seasons, opposites, question words, and 10 more sight words in addition to the ones taught in Level K. Recommended by teachers and linguists to be used for self-study or in supplement to any Chinese school curriculum. No textbook is required for using this workbook. For kids who do not speak Chinese at home and do not go to a Chinese school (immersion or weekend), a tutor is recommended for using this book. This book uses simplified characters.

Yang Yang has been a language teacher since 1999. Her students have won numerous awards in national English competitions in China. In 2006, she received her MA degree in Applied Linguistics from Ohio University with an Outstanding Language Teaching Award and an Outstanding Research Award in Second Language Acquisition. Then she did two years' PhD study in Chinese Linguistics at University of Arizona. She has been teaching Chinese at different universities and local Chinese schools in the US since then and loved by her students. Currently she is an invited writer and editor for Little Pipa, an Educational Magazine for young Chinese learners in the US.

Great book for my 6 year old son. He started to learn reading in Chinese at an earlier age, but didn’t pick up the writing part until last year when I found these workbooks. He completed the previous level in about 3 and a half months, and recently we got him this level. Its format and instructions are easy to follow for kids. So far he’s making good progress.

Part of my ongoing project to learn every language imaginable.

Love it.
