With 200 Narrow-Lot Home Plans, The Blue Ribbon Network (a widely recognized group of residential designers) has produced a fine collection of home designs specifically catered to the narrow lot. From vacation homes to four-bedroom family homes, the designs in this collection off a wide ranges of choices including houses under 30 feet wide, houses from 30 to 39 feet wide, one-story houses from 40 to 49 feed wide, houses from 50 to 59 feet wide, narrow houses for sloping sites, and narrow houses for corner lots or side entry. Section introductions discuss the design considerations of the lots and the variety of houses that can be built on them. Plans are then displayed with an artist’s drawing, an easy-to-read floor plan, and a detailed description. Once a selection of a particular house plan is made, complete sets of blueprints are just a phone call away! Home Planners is the premier publisher of house plan reference books for non-specialist general readers seeking to create a home that is tailored to their needs, budgets, and aspirations. I’m currently using this and very satisfied.

Nice.

I was really hoping to see more homes for seriously narrow lots. Most of these were well over 30 feet. Most were over 40.

There were only a few designs for the truly narrow lot (ie. houses around 24’ wide). Designing a home for a narrow lot is not necessarily the same as building on a small lot. I expected to see some creative designs - building up, angling out, bump outs, lofts, etc. The title of this book is a misnomer. It should be 200 SMALL Lot Home Plans (and I’m not sure that even works with very many of the designs - unless one wishes to fill the entire lot!).

The book was in very good condition, but disappointed with the content.
