Customer Reviews

In 1995, three respected mapping firms collaborated on a vision they shared for a new line of state road atlases. The result was Benchmark Maps: a partnership that would apply the unique talents of each company to produce atlases with an entirely new kind of look and presentation. These new atlases would combine strikingly beautiful Landscape Maps with data collection of unequaled accuracy and detail. Since our beginning, well over a million Benchmark maps and atlases have been purchased by discriminating map users from all over the world. ItÃ¢â ¬â„¢s not unusual for us to hear from people who have purchased a copy of every one of our atlases.

Benchmark maps are very helpful when planning trips over less traveled roads. Generally very accurate. We prefer them over the Gazetteer.

This guide has all the little backroads, making navigation anywhere in the state easy.

Very good maps. I regret that it is necessary to have both the DeLorme and Benchmark for every state. They alternate which company shows you where the trees are.

This is the first Benchmark Atlas that I've bought and I am very impressed with it. The maps are very detailed and the ones that I've used appear to be accurate and up to date.

I live here, very accurate for a general gazetteer. Still need 7.5 minute maps to get into the back country.

Good map book but has no topographical markings. Updated nicely.

For me, perfect scale because I don't do much hiking or four wheeling. Great colors and information. A must buy for general exploring.

These maps are critical for navigating gravel roads to get to national parks and recreation.gov reservable campsites. Well worth the purchase since friendly locals may be unfamiliar.
