Customer Reviews

This is such a cute book! I bought this for my two year old daughter. I knew she would love it as she loves the Bubble Guppies, and she also loves to look at books. I like that it is a smaller book as it is the perfect size for her to hold comfortably in her hands while looking at it. I also appreciate the fact that it is a board book which is what I was looking for. She doesn't quite understand yet the importance of being careful with paper pages, and has gotten too excited when looking at a book tearing the pages when turning them. The pages are made out of a heavier cardboard so there is no worry of that happening with them. I love how bright and colorful the pages are. On each page set one of the characters is looking for something of a certain color, and there is at least one or two things on the two pages that are that color. It is a simple yet fun book. There aren't too many words per page, which is nice for her age as she isn't as much into listening to the story, but more talking about what is on the pages. She loves pointing out the different characters as she knows all their names, and we talk about the different colors which she knows as well. It is just a cute, fun book, and she brings it to us at least once a day to read it to her. I would definitely recommend it to anyone who has a younger child that loves the Bubble Guppies. This was a personal purchase bought at the full retail price. I am reviewing it solely to share my experience with other potential buyers.

I purchased this for my 18 month old daughter who is an avid Bubble Guppies fan. If you're looking for a book to teach colors, this is not for you. The text does relate to colors "Deema is looking for pink" but it doesn't feature things like one color shown predominantly on a page. That being said, the book is filled with high quality pictures that look like you're holding the Bubble Guppies television show in your hands. It is a sturdy board book that is small enough to fit well in little toddler hands (see photo for size comparison) and to toss in a diaper bag or my purse to entertain my toddler when we are out and about.

Very cute book! It's definitely smaller than I expected (shame on me for not reading the description). I was also expecting it to relate to the episode "The Crayon Prix" so that was a tad disappointing. The pages aren't focused on only one color; it's more of a "point out this color" kind of thing.

This was a gift for my two-year-old niece, who loves Bubbly Guppies. It's a pretty basic board book, and is a small size which is great for little hands. She loves looking at the pictures and, when she will actually sit still, has enjoyed having it read to her. If you have a Bubble Guppies fan in your life, he or she will enjoy this book.

I bought this as a gift for my friend's daughter for Christmas. She is one and a half years old and was so excited to receive this. She kept on saying "bubbles, bubbles" and laughing at the book and all the pictures. I would call that a success.

I love all of the different activities included. My 3 yo is a bit too young for some of the activities but has fun with it non the less.

Great quality and pictures. Small book with not much of a storyline. Good for teaching colors. Good price.

Cute little board book but emphasis is on little. I was surprised by dimensions and how small it was, but that is my fault for not really looking at that before buying. With that said, this will end being a great book for my nephew to look at in the car or easily tuck in his diaper bag for on the go. Great colors and quality!
