This is a fantastic book! I highly recommend it. Beautiful and easy to read, with really fun activities along the way.

My daughter loved it!

My 11 yr. old granddaughter, who has started writing songs, loves it.

This is a perfect guide for both kids who love the arts and who are intimidated by creativity or feel they are not good at being creative. It’s a simple, accessible, and fun book that really brings light to the joy of songwriting and storytelling. My sister is a teacher and is planning on utilizing it in her classroom this year with her students during the creative writing module as well to help emphasize how many familiar ways there are to use your imagination. Bring the music program to you!

I have a much younger step-sister who is just learning how to play the guitar after being a singer (mostly choir) since she was real little. She’s off at an arts camp this summer so I bought this book for her care package and she loves it! She wrote that she shared it with her bunk and they all wrote a song together to sing around the campfire... which is adorable. My step-sister is a little shy and "artsy" so I like how this book makes her feel special and is really getting her to open up.

My eight-year-old nephew is into music so I bought him this book for his birthday. He loves it! He has written two songs already. He just sang them to me on Skype. It’s so much fun to watch his creativity bubble up. This is a perfect gift for any creative kid!

Such a fun read, it repeatedly put a smile on my face while giving very useful tricks. I bought it for my daughter but I’m going to use it to write her a song first! Something I never imagined I’d be able to do.

A fun, creative and inspiring introduction to songwriting! My 10 year old daughter and 7 year old son love this journal, and I want one for myself too.
