Synopsis

It is 1939. Paula Becker, thirteen years old and deaf, lives with her family in a rural German town. As rumors swirl of disabled children quietly disappearing, a priest comes to her familyÃ¢â ¬â„¢s door with an offer to shield Paula from an uncertain fate. When the sanctuary he offers is fleeting, Paula needs to call upon all her strength to stay one step ahead of the Nazis.

Customer Reviews

Fun book to read. Was great for finishing an ASL assignment given to me to read a book and write about it. Very very interesting. Came in great shape as well.

I write this review as a teacher of middle school students who study the Holocaust. This book, written in free verse, provides an insight into the fate of handicapped children under Hitler's regime. It is suitable for grades 5 through 8, for a wide range of reading abilities. It is a high interest book that will provoke discussion of important issues both from WWII and from current news. Language

Arts teachers like this book because it grabs kids attention during their poetry units. Reading teachers use it to round out their Holocaust units.

Very good condition

Same thing for my college class, its very good book and I never knew about this T4 till I read this book and related to my project presentation for my class. I ended up got ACE for that class as final because of this good book.

A poetic glimpse of the story of a young girl who is deaf and how she survives during World War II. Great for young readers.

I will be able to use what I have learned from this book when I teach the book Night to high school sophomores.

Short book of unusual format. It is worth a look as part of the history of the Nazis and the holocaust.

Very Satisfied
