Just everything we love!We don`t stuff our travel content with working hours, credit-cards accepted, nearby transportation and user-reviews as it tends to bulk up the writing and are subject to change since the time of publishing. Once you decide the places you want to visit, these infos can easily be found at your hotel concierge, on-line or on Google Maps.No user-review based content!Similarly, our philosophy has been that user-reviewed travel sites are subjective, as they tend to top-rank places that manage their reputation on those sites. So little corner bakeries, unique shops by local artisans, secluded beaches and hidden bars don't show up in those sites as visibly as places that have an on-line marketer or social media specialist. Similarly, we believe the opinion of one well-informed local expert should outweigh the opinion of hundreds of first-time visitors to Tucson. First-time visitors tend to flock to famous tourist attractions, creating a vicious circle, accentuating just the popular places. Our local experts know the entire city, and know what deserves a visit, whether a famous attraction or a quaint corner.’Tucson Top 83 Spots’ is the first travel guide to Tucson you ought to read.It quickly helps you define your short-list of places you want to visit, so you don`t have to spend hours reading hundreds of pages of dense writing. All for less than the price of a sandwich.Tags: Tucson, United States , travel, travel guide, city handbook, history, historic landmarks, English, Tucson Restaurants, restaurants, tourist attractions, Tucson’s tourist attractions, Tucson handbook, Shopping districts, Tucson’s night life, Best of Tucson, Travelers Guide to Tucson

Customer Reviews

This is not a complete guide. If it were a paper book, it would look like a comic book. Each of the 83 ’must-visit’ points of interest has a page in the "book" with a picture, a one-sentence description, and a link to online info. And the great reviews of the book? The "book" was published February 25th and 9 of the reviews (all good) were posted between February 28th and March 4th. Does that look suspicious to anyone else?Eateries recommended include a diner, a food co-op, a donut/pastry shop, a burritos joint, a college bar, a Mexican joint, an ice cream joint, a vegan joint, a "hipster" coffee joint, a pizza and beer joint, a "cool" joint for lunch near the university, a student hangout joint, another coffee joint, a taco joint, another pizza and beer joint, a beer joint, a fish taco joint, a sandwich joint, Trader Joe’s, and Whole Foods. Anyone over 25 would probably want more diverse options.Places to hangout while you’re in Tucson include the university (to throw frisbees), a bike shop, a "hipster hangout" lounge, REI, the bike shop - again, a rock climbing gym, the university - again, and a crossfit gym.This is a visitor’s guide for college students and (apparently) hipsters. There are probably people looking for that. But marketing it as a "city guide" is misleading. It’s not for most visitors over 30, especially not visitors with children.Save your $2.99.

This is an excellent tour guide to the wonders of Arizona. Anyone planning a visit here needs a really good guide as there is so much to see and do. The process of eliminating rather than gathering places is most important, you cannot see and do it all on any single trip. In addition distances between are a big issue, takes careful planning and routing to get the most out of it. There are still routes that go on for two or three hundred miles without seeing anything but desert. This book does the trick, I must say. With lots of beautiful photos and various links to attraction websites, this is a must have book for any travel freak:-)

Traveled to Arizona over the weekend and definitely found some new spots this time with this travel guide. Wasn’t expecting it to be this great!

This is a complete and very helpful guide to visiting the Tucson area. I have never seen a travel guide like this one. It covers everything. From the regular sites visitors may pick, to ones I would not have thought of. It covers places, to eat, relax and enjoy a night out on the town. The links for each place is great and would save a lot of research time. I loved the pictures; they are a nice touch, very crisp and clear. I like the way it is put together, so easy for referring back to. Very easy to read and find exactly what you are looking for. I have been thinking about our family vacation and after reading this book I am seriously planning a trip there now this summer. I found it to be most useful. It is a great book and I definitely recommend it to anyone planning a trip to Arizona.

OK, but not nearly as informative as I’d expected.

I was on my way to booking a trip to Tucson, Arizona and I stumbled upon this amazing guide which has all the attractions and things to do while on vacation in Arizona. I love this guide because I think honestly without it, I would not know how to properly get around and have fun while staying there. So, I'm thankful that Cristiano took the time out to create the guide for people like me that wants to enjoy their vacation. I hope Cristiano does one for Phoenix, Arizona next. Did I forget to mention that it comes with lots of pictures and internal links for fast navigation? This is a must have!!!

I am a sucker for good travel guides. I have recently been compiling a list of places I have to go and Tucson happened to be on the list. I was intrigued by the pictures I had seen on the internet so I decided to do further research. This guide really opened my eyes to the beauty that is Tucson. It has the most beautiful and realistic pictures I have seen thus far. I enjoyed that it is fast and easy to read. It made the decision to travel there easier because of the details the author put into it. It is thus far the best guide for planning a trip to Tucson. It is a must read.

This guide was helpful for us while planning our short trip to Tucson for a friend's birthday weekend. It has a great selection of night spots for eating out and bars, as well as a great selection of daytime activities and attractions. Loved the photos too, made me want to click through to all the links online. Highly recommend!
