Synopsis

God made us with all sorts of emotions. Joy, boredom, shyness, anger, happiness: what do these feel like? How can we handle them? God Made Feelings helps young children explore and express feelings, and offers calming and coping strategies for difficult emotions. For ages birth to three.Frolic board books playfully introduce basic faith concepts in a way that's fun and age appropriate for very small children.

"A pleasant-enough introduction to feelings and how those feelings emerge." -- Kirkus "Kirkus"

Jennifer Hilton is a wife, mother of four, and life-long Christian. She holds a BA in English from Iowa State University and has worked as a technical/corporate writer for 24 years. She feels called to share Christ's common message and the peace it has brought her as a wife and mother. She lives in rural Iowa.Kristen McCurry is an author and editor of children's books. Originally from Iowa, she has lived in Chicago, New York, and is now settled happily back in the Midwest near one of Minnesota's 10,000 lakes. Kristen lives with her husband, twin children, and a beagle named ZuZu. She loves reading, playing tennis, and attending her beloved Good Shepherd Lutheran Church. She is delighted to be co-authoring these books with her sister, Jennifer.Natasha

Rimmington is an illustrator living in Scotland. She specializes in children's illustration and loves drawing animal characters; especially bears. She spends most of her day illustrating, but when she's not doing that she loves hiking, camping and visiting the nearby zoo.

Awesome book, beginning to get all of them!
