Making a charming heart Bible verse card that reminds you to heed God's Word and keep from gossiping. Just collect a few common household materials, follow the simple step-by-step instructions, and you're on your way to having hours of creative fun as you learn to make the Word of the Bible a wondrous part of your daily life.

Janice VanCleave is a former teacher who has written more than forty books for children. She has led Christian workshops using many of the activities in this book and is a bountiful resource for Christian educators.

Not a lot to explore with young children

I love the idea of this book. Now am looking forward to getting into it with our kids.

There are 52 lessons. Each one has a basic 2-3 paragraph introduction/explination on a bible story and a craft or activity. They storeies are a little on the boring side.

Great book! Very practical and hands on! Absolutely love it! very many great crafts - absolutely for Sunday school! Good one!

This fabulous book offers 52 high quality activities for helping to teach children about the bible. The three sections of the book offer activities related to the Old Testament, the New Testament and Christian Value topics such as love, friendship and dealing with temptation. Each activity includes a bible quotation, a Topic description, a "Bible Exploration" citation to a specific bible reading, a memory verse, a "think about this" reflection questions, an overview of the story or value and detailed activity directions, complete with illustrations. This is a great resource for adding fun and creativity to the way you teach your children or students about the Bible.

The teaching is solid and the hands-on crafts are excellent. One of the best things about this book is that the crafts are simple and use supplies you usually have in stock.
