“Fun and creative.Ã¢â ¬Â• —BC Parent"Useful."Ã Â —earlychildhoodnews.com

Laurie Carlson is the author of Colonial Kids, Westward Ho!, More Than Moccasins, and Kids Camp! She has taught preschool, primary grades, and childrenÃ¢â ¬â„¢s art classes.

I gave this book to my great granddaughter, age 6. Her mother requested it. I asked her how she like it and she said it would be very helpful as they plan and plant their spring garden. They are looking forward to putting into action this interesting book.

Not quite as useful as I had hoped.

Simple directions and colorful illustrations for learning! We have a community garden; this is a beautiful way to involve the next generation.

The item was as described and arrived early.

Simple, practical activities for the most part.

This book is a lot of fun with some great projects for young gardeners - a good one for parents and grandparents.

I really liked the progression of this book and how it introduced plants and then growing them (indoor and out) and then even recipes for eating plants from the garden. First I checked this out from the library but knew we had to have it in our own collection for more-frequent use.

I really think this is a fun book for kids and their parents; however I would liked to have seen more on planting veggies e.g. easy brief descriptions of 10 to 12 veggies kids can grow with supervision.
