ANNA MEMBRINO is an editor, writer, and ultimate Frisbee player. She is the author of I Want to Be a Ballerina. Anna lives in New York City.TIM BUDGEN was born in Surrey, England, and is a freelance illustrator and art teacher. For much of his life he has been scribbling down ideas, and he can usually be found with a pencil in one hand and a sketchbook in the other! This is his first book for Random House. He lives on an island off the coast of England, and surely there are sharks in the waters there!

My son loves this book. What is even better is there aren't too many words on the pages and the words tend to be repeatative so he recognizes them and will read certain key words with me (I started off with big, little, and shark and started adding more) he was so engaged and excited and kept wanting to read and gets even more proud of himself the more we read this book and the others we have from this company.Also keep in mind you get from your little love goblins what you put into them. What I mean by that is you have to be engaged and exited in order to get them there. Don't seem bored, uninterested, or get too agitated easily while trying to read the book. This book just makes things a tad bit easier with its layout for a child to pay better attention and recognize words.

PERFECT! Great book to read over and over with your little ones!

Just love these reading level books
