Customer Reviews

I have always liked Michelin maps. They have a good cross referencing system to the Red and Green guides - unfortunately, there is no Austrian Red Guide currently available. Also, they have put the front and back covers in a hard cardboard - which may make the map last longer, but makes it harder to fold and use when in the car.

The road numbers or names are poorly marked on the maps. The map is too busy to use. Unless you wish to study the map for hours, choose a different source to get driving directions.

LOVE this map. It is big, has lots of details, the road markings are clear, and it is very understandable. I like all of Michelin’s road maps and would highly recommend them.

Very helpful.

Perfect for use driving all over the country of Austria and covers Bavaria as well, so you don’t need to buy a separate map to get to Munich, unless you want a larger size map of Munich to help you get into that city.

Michelin maps are still standouts in the field of travel cartography. Highly recommend. More detail than google earth for driving and the over view of the region is superb!

Excellent maps. These allow you to get a better perspective that GPS directions only.

Michelin maps are as good as they get. And this one is no exception.I have used Michelin in a variety of countries over the past 30 years and they have never, repeat never, let me down or disappointed.Been to Austria several times and this map has everything that a traveller needs to get around, especially by car.For some travellers, including those that don't get off the beaten path, this map may be overkill. For others, it just the ticket.
