Synopsis

Since it founding in 1906, Newport Beach, California, has evolved from a small maritime port of ship building and commercial fishing, to a vacationers paradise boasting a mixture of boats, beaches, boards, and bling. Despite it's development, the core characteristics that make up the heart and soul of this coastal community, still remain --from the surf culture, to the historical landmarks. This is a photo essay dipicting all the beauty and recreation Newport has to offer.

Kate is a fourth generation Californian, residing in Newport Beach, California with her family. Recognized for her artistic talent in high school, she was awarded a full ride scholarship in art to any college of her choice. After graduating from The University of Oregon, Kate moved to the ski resort of Sun Valley, Idaho where she launched her photographic career under the tutelage of internationally renowned photographer, David Stoecklein. After a tenure with Stoecklein, Kate co-founded and managed a stock photography agency which eventually was sold to a larger agency in Santa Monica, California. Kate still shoots stock photography, as well as portraits and is working on a series of books about the beach communities up and down The California Coast.

Great book on the Newport area. Shows the good old Newport Beach through a series of wonderful photographs. A good gift item
