Historian and award-winning author Don Nardo has written many books for young people about modern history, including studies of the rise of Hitler and Nazism, World War II, international terrorism, and dozens of military topics. In addition, he specializes in ancient history and has published numerous volumes about the histories and cultures of the ancient Greeks, Romans, Egyptians, and peoples of Mesopotamia. Nardo, who also composes and arranges orchestral music, lives with his wife, Christine, in Massachusetts. --This text refers to the Library Binding edition.

thank you

In my reviews of some of the other books in this excellent series by Compass Point books, I praised Don Nardo's informative, well-written text, as well as the colorful comic book-like pictures and graphics. In this book- about the gods and goddesses of ancient Greece- the pics and graphics are particularly beautiful and also quite fitting. I hope that the publisher puts out more books in this series in the future. They are excellent introductions to Greek mythology that adults will enjoy no less than the young people these volumes are primarily aimed at. Highly recomended.
