Founded in 1915 as the Cartographic Group, the first division of National Geographic, National Geographic Maps has been responsible for illustrating the world around us through the art and science of mapmaking.Today, National Geographic Maps continues this mission by creating the world’s best wall maps, recreation maps, atlases, and globes which inspire people to care about and explore their world.

Exactly what I wanted. I have earlier versions, all the way back to when they were just Trails Illustrated and no National Geographic. But the new versions have currently closure info and other trail info. While the older versions give better contour detail than these new ones. The new ones give greater detail on the man made things like building, parking, and other infrastructure. So having old and new is the way to go!

Some annotations on the map are not explained in the key and I’m yet to figure’m out. I’ve also yet to get on the scene to assess the accuracy but seems a quality item.

I bought it for my trip across the US.Ok, I had my GPS, but we must always have a map on us.It is very useful, because your can find a lot of information.

Great Maps

Excellent map. Unlike another and locally produced map it has backcountry campsites marked by number which greatly enhances trip planning.
