Synopsis

Durrae Johanek (Yellowstone Cookbook) makes What I Saw in Yellowstone fun for young people to find and identify the parks most frequently seen plants, animals, geothermal features, and more, whether they are driving park roads, resting at pull-offs, or hiking. The books is packed with color photos by Christopher Cauble (A Montana Journal), lively descriptions, fun guess what factoids, and precise where-to-see-it directions. Readers can check off what they saw and write notes about when, where, and how they saw it, turning the book into a great journal of their Yellowstone trip to share with friends and classmates back home.

Customer Reviews

Our five year old loved this book. She doesn’t read unassisted yet, but the pictures are so good that she recognized landmarks without me having to point them out.

This is a great companion book for bigger kids and adults to visit Yellowstone.

Took a wonderful trip to Yellowstone this summer, and this book kept us all looking and engaged the entire time. I would recommend this book to anyone, especially to those with school aged children. I loved it too, they had to fight me for it. ;)

This book was great! I loved the places to write our observations. Now the book has turned into a show and tell book of our trip. My son loves showing everyone all the animals we saw and I loved learning facts about the park and the animals.great book!

This will be a great book for for my grandkids. Learning all the wonders Yellowstone has to offer and documenting wildlife and plants they have seen. It will be a nice journal with pictures and stories

My children enjoyed learning about all the different animals and sights they might see in Yellowstone. What fun to wrap up each day recording their memories and what they saw in the park! The photographs in the book are beautiful and the layout of the book is very readable and kid friendly. This is a must purchase for any family visiting Yellowstone National Park!!

Fantastic photos and information. This book got us all excited for our upcoming trip!

Will be taking this with us for the grandkids when we go. ÃƒÂ Ã Å¸Ã ËœÃ Å
