Nivaldo J. Tro received his BA degree from Westmont College and his PhD degree from Stanford University. He went on to a postdoctoral research position at the University of California at Berkeley. In 1990, he joined the chemistry faculty at Westmont College in Santa Barbara, California. Professor Tro has been honored as Westmont's outstanding teacher of the year three times (1994, 2001, and 2008). He was named Westmont's outstanding researcher of the year in 1996. Professor Tro lives in the foothills of Santa Barbara with his wife, Ann, and their four children, Michael, Alicia, Kyle, and Kaden. In his leisure time, Professor Tro likes to spend time with his family in the outdoors. He enjoys running, biking, surfing, and snowboarding.

This book became almost useless when I needed to purchase this book again elsewhere because it didn’t come with the OWL code. I thought that I may be able to purchase the code independent from this book, however, in order to buy the code for the OWL online system, I needed to buy this book new. The OWL code cannot be purchased separate, and therefore, this book was only useful as a textbook by itself. If the OWL code is not required for your course, then this is an amazing deal!

Bought from -described as Acceptable. My daughter got a copy that was a former rental with half a cover, falling apart. Looks like it was fished out of the garbage can. Yes, it was cheap; but if I had known, I would have ordered a better copy. Will not be going by ’s quality descriptions again.

Chemistry is my major and this book has helped me a lot to get through!

For a book required for schoolwork, it is okay. The teacher however is much better at explaining how to do the equations than this book is.

The book was the correct version for my class but the price was almost the same price as a new one. It did serve is purpose however.

Good quality book, like new, there is no highlights on it, the book is extremly like a new one!!! choose it

I received the book in great condition used for a great price .

The book was as described. Delivered in a timely manner.
