Synopsis

Headlines scream across the nation as a country in near panic pleads for the capture of the killers. With little progress, U.S. President Samuel Schroeder asks Jack McCall, a veteran of the CIA and Defense Intelligence, to head up a special multi-agency task force to find the killers. A frustrated and unhappy FBI designates, as its representative, Rachel Johnstone, an agent with whom Jack has had some personal history. The Third Coincidence unfolds amidst continued assassinations, accusations that the president is attempting to form his own secret police, and confirmation hearings for reluctant nominees to fill the vacant positions while the Supreme Court struggles to sustain a quorum. Will a terrorist group or a mad assassin succeed in destroying these revered intuitions? In the spirit of The Day of the Jackal and The Manchurian Candidate, this story is juxta-posed through the eyes of both the hunter and the hunted as the devious plot to change America hurdles forward.

Customer Reviews

This one was full of suspense. Kept me totally involved with the characters and plot last few chapters even had my heart racing. Hope this will lead to more Jack McCall stories. Highly recommended

Enjoyed enough to read the second book in this series. My only objection was that there was way too much info and emphasis on every street and building in the D.C. area.

Enjoyed all the twists and turns as the crazy killer was tracked by Jack’s team--I’ll look forward to what happens next!

Excellent Novel. One of the best I read. Enjoyed the details of Washington, D.C. Really a must read.

The premise of the story was interesting, but it took way too long to get there. When I find myself reading only the dialogue, the end can not come too soon.

very good. great plot. believable characters.

Intriguing, excellent mystery. Will read more by this author,

An exciting book but with a little more details than I wanted.it is interesting to read about the techniques used in dealing with crime
