Customer Reviews

I normally do not take the time to express my thoughts on the literary expressions of those trying to persuade. However, Free Leads is different. It is honest,, succinct, challenging and when read eliminates the majority of excuses as to why "insurance cannot really be sold over the phone". If you have a desire to use this business model to provide you and your loved ones a life style far above average, then you need to read Free Leads. There are unfortunately volumes of voices occupying the landscape we as insurance agents look to for the life blood of our existence (leads). Most are not worthy of mention, others simply exist for their own benefit and not yours or mine. Enough negativism. There is a real and positive choice now available to us, Order your Free Leads publication, read it, decide for yourself. Steven Gifford lays it out there, no more excuses! Pull a chair up to the table, 'You will be glad you did".

I've worked with several Final Expense companies and eclick has changed the way agents work. We are talking about an incredible platform where agents are able to generate quotes, chat with management, and submit applications with just a click of a button. Leads that are prequalified thoroughly and transferred to Final Expense Agents in real time. Love the leads, love the company, love the family environment and the best part of it all, it's all being done from the comfort of your home!!

WOW... I read this book and Steven just lays it out. There's a lot of companies making money selling leads to Agents. I myself have stack of old beat up leads to prove it. eClick has an awesome platform. What are you waiting for?

This book will change your career. Stop and read this now. If you want to make serious money dealing with people who care about your success, this is the way to go! Check it out, you won't regret it.
