Rod Powers retired from the United States Air Force with 23 years of service, 11 of them spent helping to solve the problems of the enlisted corps as a first sergeant. A world-renowned military careers expert, he advised thousands of troops about U.S. Armed Forces careers.

So, My high-school aged son is dead set on joining the military. His school offered the ASVAB and he did well. Unfortunately, the choice MOS' require extremely high ASVAB scores. Knowing that we went and convinced the recruiter to retest my son. This book as well as the flashcards (another brand) helped immensely! My son's retake did the trick by teaching him in subject areas where he had no previous exposure such as electronics and automotive. Money well spent!If you find my review helpful, please let me know by using the voting buttons. Thank you.

This was for my grandson who is planning on enlisting in the Navy after high school. Lots of good info and recommended by the recruiters.

Got a good ASVAB score

This book helped my husband prepare for his test. We are suggesting it to our friends and will recommend it to anyone else.

I went over the non core subjects in the book and learned a bit about auto/shop/electric. Took the test and got a 93/99. Pretty happy with this book helping me get that.

I bought this with the asvab flash cards and I'm proud to say I scored an 89 on my overall and I scored nothing lower then 78 in all 9 subjects of the asvab ! I highly recommend it if you want to have a big selection when it comes to joining the military very helpfull....This book help to go from 25 to 45 on the asvab and also help me to pass the asvav C-test with a score over 50

Very easy to understand. I studied this book and a book by Kaplan which came with flash cards. I got an 82 on the ASVAB and a lot of the questions were easier than I thought.
