Synopsis

Lisa St. Aubin de TerÃƒÂ¡n traveled to Mozambique and, for the first time in her much-traveled life, felt at home—in a place "so remote that few have visited it since the time of Vasco da Gama." After three marriages and various affairs, she also fell in love. She set up a school and, together with her niece, the Teran Foundation, a non-profit organization to promote sustainable development in Southern Africa.Ã Â AÃ Â taleÃ Â of new beginnings in a country of contrasts and challenges, this is her most inspiring story yet.

Customer Reviews

"This is no idyllic account of the restoration of a Tuscan villa; rather, St. Aubin de Teran tells a story of continual hardship offset by great sustenance of the soul."Ã Â —Booklist"A good example of what a little foreign money and local determinations can achieve . . . this book bears witness to a good kind of madness, of which many will be jealous."Ã Â —Independent"TeranÃ¢â ¬â„¢s writing has won many accolades and one can see why: it is vivid, intense and nicely cadenced."Ã Â —New Statesman

Ã Â Lisa St. Aubin de TerÃƒÂ¡n is the author of The Hacienda, The Palace, Swallowing Stones, and A Valley in Italy.

I am a hard-core St Aubin de Teran fan. Her writing about South America is just extraordinary. (The Hacienda is one of my all-time favorite books - what happens when a teenager runs off to South American with an older man that waited for her outside the school gates). This more recent work, on her love affair with Mozambique, once again reflects her brilliant determination to carve out a deeply fulfilling, meaningful life. Instead of Umbria, Italy, St Aubin de Teran puts down roots in Mozambique, the latest country to capture her heart. She plans an ambitious sustainability project/new life/non-profit work in Mozambique, and it takes off. Gone are the eccentric Victorian costumes and uber-romantic fantasies, Africa gives St Aubin de Teran a new dimension, a new depth and much happiness.
