Customer Reviews

Mary Catherine is an orphan. She had been abandoned on the steps of a New York Orphanage at just two months old. Mary grew up in the orphanage her whole life and was never adopted there. When she was becoming of age and had to leave the Orphanage she was sent on an orphan train called Mercy Train in the hopes of being adopted along the way. Unfortunately Mary wasn’t adopted along her trip and lived with a fellow Nun while working for room and board at a hospital. Mary learns to open up after meeting Sam an injured older rancher. She quickly considers Sam a friend. Being in Helena, Montana is doing wonders for Mary. She meets Trace Jennings a young rancher who lost his father to a war he didn't understand. This is a great historical romance.

This is a new author for me!! She truly is a gifted writer!! This book was a page turner and I could not put it down!! Sensational clean read and I love the time period and I've always loved cowboys!!

This is such a good story. I really appreciate the wholesome Christian values in this story. It is easy to get into and fun to read.

LOVED the book!! Orphan train, mail order brides, ranch romance.....has it all wrapped up in a good an interesting story.

Good premise held my attention

The storyline had some unexpected twists that left me wanting to see how the story would unfold. It was a pleasure to read.

This was a very sweet story and I thoroughly enjoyed it. If everyone could be as honest and sweet as Mary Catherine, this would indeed be a wonderful world to live in.

This book is a fast passed book with caracters who come to life on the pages. The kind of story I would enjoy seeing as a movie on my TV screen.
