Keeps all of passwords organized and in one place. It has an area for multiple items, including a section for additional notes. There is also sections for other items such as credit cards, software licenses, networks, etc.

Wanted to have this for reference for family member use in case of emergencies. Would have liked to been able to input brief comments as guidance to include description, process/procedure, vendor contact associated with accounts, etc.

This is a large heavy duty organizer. It measures 7 inches wide by 9 inches long and 1 inch wide. It has a very heavy duty cover and rugged spiral binding.If you need an organizer for your briefcase or purse, this may be too large. If you need something to keep in a desk drawer, it is a very nice organizer.This organizer has 13 tabs equally divided in pairs. For example, A B | C D | E F | etc. Each tab has four double sided pages with five address sections per page for a total of 40 passwords per pair of letters.Each web section has lines forWeb Page:Username:Password:Notes:(three lines)At four inches of writable space per line, there is plenty of room to write all your addresses.There are four extra tabs in the back. Labeled: ISP Info, Home Network, License Manger, and Notes.ISP Info has pre-labeled lines for:Provider Name:Network SettingsUsername:Password:DNS1:DNS2:Gateway:IP Address:EmailMail Server Type:Incoming Server:Outgoing Server:Dial-UpLocal Number:800 Number:Phone NumbersTech. This is a wonderful and discreet way to organize all your passwords, webpages, notes, home network, router, etc. I bought this for my father since he had passwords on pieces of paper everywhere, this was a great way to organize that, because it is similar to an address book for alphabetical listings just by websites, and also has additional tabs for home networking, notes,etc. Only suggestion is to write things in pencil because you cannot move them easily with pen or take them out due to the spiral permanent binding. It is a great way to stay organized and keep everything just in one place. It is a good option for those who belong to many websites and have trouble with memory or keeping track of everything. Extremely sturdy, well constructed and hard cover; cover isn’t labeled so most just think it is an address book.lol Highly recommend.

I really like this product. It about 8 inches in height, compared to the other palm sized similarproducts.The pages do contain essential printed elements and the pages with tabs come as a bonus. The quality of the Binder is okay, yet the ability to store more Web Based Content is anadvantage.My largest complaint is the Alphabetic format, or design, that predetermines the customer’s need. As I plan to categorize based on common theme (example; 1.computer hardwaredevelopers 2. software developers 3. 4. Nerdist Stuff 4. local utilities.....) , I will have to trim off unneeded tabs to accommodate the extra pages needed for a particular theme. In this respects,Broad Categories may accomplished, as well. The Alphabet component with a limited number ofpages allocated, will have you coming up short. Not a deal breaker, just adapt to your needs.

This is a great Internet organizer! It's a little larger than I'd wanted (width by height), but it has everything you need to navigate through your favorite websites: Web Page, Username, Password, Notes. ISP Info: Provider Name, Network Settings, Email, Dial-Up, Tech and Customer Service numbers, Home Network information, License Manager information (which, to me, is very important when you have to reload games or whatever that may need your license or activation codes). Plus, it has reinforced tabs! As I said, best ever organizer!

I wish I had this book years ago. Using the Alphabit has saved me lots of time and less stress. I would recomend to a friend too. So I bought a second one and gave it to my friend.

I chose the three star because the wire is already coming off at one end. Otherwise it would get at least a 4 1/2 star for content and usefulness. Too bad but I am disappointed.Addendum: I managed to bend the lower wire so it now functions properly....for the time being.
