PreSchool-Grade 1-This sixth installment about the lovable frog uses a favorite sport as its theme. Froggy has joined the Dream Team, coached by his father and a friend’s mother. On the day they play the Wild Things for the City Cup, he dons his gear (pulling on his underwear with a "zap" and his socks with a "zoop") and heads for the field. These sound effects and the repetitive refrain, "Head it! Boot it! Knee it! Shoot it! BUT DON’T USE YOUR HANDS," will appeal to listeners of this read-aloud. The audience will understandingly blush alongside Froggy when he gets so wrapped up in the action that he forgets the chant and accidentally catches the soccer ball to prevent a goal. Remkiewicz’s bright cartoon illustrations capture the characters’ enjoyment of the game through their expressive faces. An amusing story sure to please Froggy fans and maybe win a few new ones.Blair Christolon, Prince William Public Library System, Manassas, VACopyright 1999 Reed

"Play-by-play soccer action, lots of humor, and energetic artwork will please fans of this irrepressible frog." --The Horn Book

Personally this story has no flow. It just jumps from one statement on to another random one. It’s confusing and not entertaining.

My daughter LOVES these Froggy books. She is 6 and just starting to read. These books encourage her to want to read as she thinks they are funny. They are adorable and easy for her to read! We love them.

Wish it were a board book. I think my 2 year old is just a little young for it.

Grandson loves these books!!

Cute story! Kids loved it

Works well

This is really entertaining for kids

A cute book about a frog who is learning how to play soccer. My two-year-old loves anything sports related so this book is definitely a hit
