This is a colorful book with peek through windows. There are traditional Catholic prayers (Lord's Prayer, Hail Mary, Angel of God) as well as simple prayers for various times of the day that are aptly illustrated with scenes young children can relate to -- wake-up (The sun is up and I am too! I say good morning, God, to you.), meals, playing (Thanks for balls and thanks for bats, for ducks and trucks and funny hats. Thanks for slides and thanks for swings. Thank you, God, for all these things.), going to bed, etc. On each page there's also a question or suggested activity ("Pretend to wake up. Yawn and stretch your arms." "What do you like to eat for breakfast?" "What do you see outside your window?") The carrying handle and clasp that opens and closes are additional attractions for a toddler.

I bought this as an Easter gift for my granddaughter, who is 18 months old. I also thought her 4 1/2 year old sister would enjoy it, too, although I did give her a different prayer book, for older kids.Both girls love this book! They will "grow into" the other book, but right now, this is perfect! It is colorful with adorable scenes and characters with a variety of settings, that children can relate too. I especially love the simple prayers that can be said at any time, during typical daily activities!

Our granddaughter is really into books, so we purchased this as a baptism gift for her. She really looks cute carrying it around. It’s a great bedtime book, as well. We say a prayer and show her the pictures. This is a perfect gift to get your child acclimated to saying prayers. It’s a great book for them to take to church as well, giving them something to keep themselves occupied should they get a little antsy.

Love. Such a great way to introduce your child to religion. Having control of their own version of the Bible (as well as the cute pics and stories) makes it more desireable for them to keep with.

Since this was a Catholic prayer book, I was hoping it would be more Catholic specific. Other than the Hail Mary and Our Father, the book is just short, made-up prayers for a child’s daily activities (playing, eating, etc.), which has nothing to do with Catholicism. The book is cute though and with the handle it’s perfect to little ones to take to Mass.

What a fantastic gift idea for my granddaughter. She carries it around everywhere she goes. It is durable and colorful. Plus, we can read prayers to her often as we prepare her for a life of Catholicism

Perfect for the grandchildren at Mass.

Nice book. I purchased it for granddaughters baptism
