Synopsis

As a ministry worker, raising support can be a daunting task. It doesn't have to be intimidating though. It isn't about money or asking people to give. It is about looking to God to provide for you. He has given you a vision for ministry, and now you get to invite others into that vision. Your job is to pray and work hard to discover those whom the Lord has already prepared to invest in you and your ministry. God has done His work. Now it's time for you to do yours. A case in point: Nehemiah was very nervous about meeting with the wealthiest, most powerful man on the planet. He was asking King Artaxerxes to fund his Jerusalem restoration project. But when it came time to make his appeal, this lowly cupbearer first looked up to the Person who really provides resources. At the moment of truth, Nehemiah lifted his heart and made The God Ask. In Nehemiah 2:4 he describes the exchange: "Then the king said to me, 'What would you request?' So I prayed to the God of heaven." Instead of going into appointments fearing what your fellow man will say, you can have confidence that God is superintending the whole process. This audiobook will help you embrace the fact that this is not a Man Ask. No. It is a God Ask!

This book answers a lot of questions a new support raiser might have. I love the attitude shift he tries to share. I did not view support rasing the same way I do not thanks to this book. I am more excited about asking. I still get nervous but I know that what I am doing is part of God's plan. I will not let support rasing be the thing that keeps me from spreading the gospel. If you are struggling, discouraged, worrying about rasing support them read this book. I do want to warn you. Some of his ideas might be challenging to you, but they are effective. So if you are up for the challenge and you want to be better prepared to raise support then read this book!

Not sure what I would do without this book! Fresh and inviting read. Really challenges the western mindset that finds it hard to talk freely about money and finances for full-time faith-related work. The worker does deserve his or her wages.

Starts with a biblical approach and heart (thankful for it even though I was eager to get to the practical... totally sets the foundation for a heart that is dependent on God for provision)Ends with great practical steps of faith to increase your network and to help reword how we ask so that it is heard the way we intend.

This book is for sincere Christians who are called of God into His service and are seeking those who would support them. I persoally found the thoughts from Steve helpful and encouraging. I appreciated very much his desire to draw his truths from the Word of God.

It was practical, encouraging, motivational and gave great perspective. I would highly, highly recommend this as a must read! It is organized well, and has consistently great content throughout. Highlight this book and then go over it slowly again to let it soak in.I would also recommend, "the little red book of selling" by Jeffrey Gitomer afterwards. It is a secular book, but it gives the nuts and bolts of a true sales person and it is a good companion read.

Got it for my parents as they’re getting ready to go to China as full time missionaries and were needing to raise support. This really helped them & updated their old views of what wasn’t working. After I got this for them someone else gave them the same book! Lol

I will keep my hand close to this book! It is a must read for anybody in ministry. It is both practical and "theo"-retical (as in all about God). I plan on re-reading this book every year.

It was complete and explained all the necessary Biblical authorizations for asking!
