Steven Furtick is the New York Times best-selling author of Greater and Sun Stand Still. He is also the founder and lead pastor of Elevation Church, a multi-site church based in Charlotte, North Carolina. He holds a master of divinity degree from Southern Baptist Theological Seminary. He and his wife, Holly, live in the Charlotte area with their three children, Elijah, Graham, and Abbey.

Ã Â Session 1 Introduction The ChatterboxThis sessionÃ¢â ¬â„¢s key idea: We can never tune out all the chatterÃ¢â ¬â • the lies in our mindsÃ¢â ¬â •but we can learn to tune in to GodÃ¢â ¬â„¢s voice.
Ã Â Ã Â #### I read online that the average person has more than sixty thousand thoughts per day and over 80 percent of these thoughts are negative. Is that accurate? I donÃ¢â ¬â„¢t know. But letÃ¢â ¬â„¢s think together about the possibility that 80 percent of our thoughts are not only devoid of any power to help us but are also actively working against us. When we allow our thoughts to go unchecked, a steady drip of lies cements the wrong patterns within our minds, building a Berlin Wall of bad beliefs. Ã Â I wonder how much of its forty-eight-thousand-word quota your chatterbox has already filled today. Ã Â Did you hear it in the closet while you were getting dressed, telling you that it doesnÃ¢â ¬â„¢t matter what you put on, that nothing will look good on you because youÃ¢â ¬â„¢re too flabby, too bony, too pale, too old, or, in a single word, defective? Ã Â Did you hear it in the office where you work or in the home where you raise your children, telling you thereÃ¢â ¬â„¢s no point in trying so hard because no one notices anyway? Ã Â Do you hear it loudest at the end of the day, when mistakes and regrets and missteps can bounce around the room unobstructed by progress or perspective? Ã Â You sounded really stupid whenÃ¢â ¬Â¦ How will you ever recover fromÃ¢â ¬Â¦ Why would anybody want to be around a person like you, whoÃ¢â ¬Â¦ God must be awfully disappointed in the way youÃ¢â ¬Â¦ Ã Â We all have a chatterbox. How we respond to it will make the difference between a life spent floundering around in lies and regrets or a life thatÃ¢â ¬â„¢s making steady progress toward fulfilling GodÃ¢â ¬â„¢s desires for us.

If I could give this book a higher rating I would. I am so encouraged and empowered to know that there is a solution or a course of action that will assist me in silencing the voice of the enemy. This book has made me more aware of the negative self talk that tries to keep me stagnant. I no longer allow those thoughts to go unchecked by the word of God. I deliver a knock out punch to the mouth of the chatter box at the onset of his lies!

I bought this as a gift for my daughter but I also have the series and it is a must have!! There is also a study guide that you can purchase as well. 100% worth it! Also it is a book you can go back too for reference when going thru things! It is Fantastic!!

Great book that I rated five stars. A must read for anyone who is constantly being discouraged by the "Chatterbox. Author and Pastor Steven Firtick gives a simple, practical approach through the word of God to get the victory from the "Chatterbox." Pastor Furtick , thank you with peace and blessings. I am encouraged after reading your meaningful book!

thanks Steven for writing this book, as we all have chatterboxes. I won't even go in to detail as to the struggles I'm going through. but, I try to count it all joy, and I'm thankful that at over 72 yrs. of age, God has brought me through many trials. God bless

It's real. It is honest. It's practical and true. It's really blessed me and I pray that God will help me to continue to #Crashthechatterbox I thank God for Steve Furtick and that He gave him the strength and perseverance to push through the chatter and finish writing this life changing book. For me the best part is the honesty. It's not idealistic in its teachings and it really speaks from the realities of people's lives. There's no deceit. There's no "oh get over yourself and be better". There's so much understanding for those that actually struggle with their own chatter boxes and for me that was the best part of the book. It's relatable and it shows that it's possible. I think everyone should read it.

I will never forget the words of wisdom and tools offered by Pastor Steven in this great book. Every Christian should have a copy in their library. Pastor Steven's personal experiences along with biblical references make the text so relatable. It helped me get through one of the most difficult seasons in my life; a time of loss and great discouragement. As Christians, we all go/grow through the seasons, and it's important to know what to do to silence the negative chatter in our minds.

This book takes you through not only the idea that you can take charge of what goes on in your head, but the steps needed to do it! It gives you specific strategies to use and also real life examples of how to apply it. Pastor Furtick is amazing at taking the word of God and making it applicable to today's world, and he doesn't have a problem showing that he himself is a normal sinning human. This book helps you understand your not alone in your struggle, and helps you find a feasible way to overcome the Chatterbox within!

If you haven't heard any of these concepts yet, it may be a good way to learn how to control that little voice in your head you may deal with, whether it may be fear, or bitterness or anger. To me though , none of it was new to me. I've learned many of the same teachings through bible studies, books my other spiritual (not necessarily christian) authors. Ok read, but, nothing revolutionary.
