I am a first year homeschooling mom with sixth and third graders. I purchased the History pockets: Ancient Eqypt for 4-6 grade, Ancient Greece 4-6, Ancient Rome 4-6 and the Ancient Civilizations for 2-3 grade. I have been able to teach both children simultaneously using these resources along with extra reading materials found at our local library. The Ancient civilizations pocket starts with Mesopotamia and then moves on to Egypt, Greece, and Rome. Where the Ancient Civilizations pocket gives an overview of each subject suitable for the third grade level, the 4-6 grade pockets are more in depth. I have adjusted my lesson to satisfy the needs of both of my children(which by the way love history)while also including biblical studies - Abraham was from Ur in Mesopotamia, Joseph in the Pharoh's house, Moses and the exodus from Egypt, etc. The pockets offer hands on craft and learning projects that made the subject interesting for both. Once we complete the study on Egypt, I will be starting the Ancient Greece pocket with my sixth grader to tie in with the next lesson in the Ancient Civilizations pocket - Greece. The pockets have been an excellent addition to our history lessons.

Easy to understand and fun to complete projects. We're using it for a homeschool unit on Ancient Egypt. My 5th grader enjoys the different projects.

I love the History Pockets books! I teach 6th grade Ancient Civilizations to heterogenous classes. These books are fantastic at getting the kids interested in the content. I haven't used many of the activities from the books, but I've used some of the ideas for the activities to create my own. I've used the readings themselves for stations and other activities and they are perfect for struggling readers, but not too simplified for the on grade level and higher kids. The readings also touch on many of the important aspects of the content and are great for introducing the information. I can't write enough to say how much I love these books even if you don't use them to make "pockets." :)

Bought this as part of the homeschool curriculum for my 3rd grade daughter. We have not made use of it yet but I have perused the instructions and projects and this appears to be a great way to learn about Ancient Egypt. She has seen some of the projects as well and wanted to get started on it NOW. If your child enjoys crafting or is more of a hands-on learner this is a wonderful resource. Ordered used, it came in really great shape.

I love his series a lot. This one could have gone a little deeper, but the worksheets are with the price.

Good resource. Lots of pieces to keep track of. Students enjoyed parts of the work. The reading informational part was a nice change for students from our regular text book. Served as a good supplement for information.Cheryl Baker, Grade 6 teacher Purchased this to use with The Story of the World book 1 and it's been a great add in. My daughter is 8 years old and has had no issues completing the pockets.

This is a fun way for my kids to learn about Egypt. It gets them out of the same read, then answer questions bit. My daughter loves doing crafts, so she loves all the projects. My son does some of the crafts, but he can still learn just from all the facts they give in this book. Great information; basic and easy to understand.
