Bought the Art Page-a-Day calendar for my wife this year. She was disappointed in many of the images so back to her favorite - the Bird Page-a- Day, which I've bought her for several years. Images are smaller than before & like other reviewers I do not like the new format - bring back the plastic holder!

What a disappointment. I have gotten this calendar for the last 5 years and love it. In fact, I have all

5 on my bookshelves, the day itself may be wrong but the date is correct. The photos are wonderful and the plastic holder is handy. But the new one- the photos are smaller and printed only on one side because each page is torn off every day. So what are you suppose to do with all these loose sheets. I guess I could write my grocery list on the back of the Burrowing Owl. Very unhappy with the new format. Bring back the plastic holder to keep the days in order. I am returning the calendar for a refund

Don’t like the change in format. Went from a very nice clear plastic holder, 6" x 7" picture on thick stock - to a rip-off-a-page-a-day format (like all the others) that is now 5.5" x 5.5" and printed on thin stock. The pictures from the earlier years are collectables - these are just going to be thrown away. Sad that Audubon made the format change. I hope lots of people complain.
