Customer Reviews

Do NOT call something graph paper and do NOT say it is quad-ruled unless it actually IS graph paper and quad-ruled. The product description even states "features 120 full width graph paper page side". Not correct in the least! As stated by other reviewers (whom I wish I had read before I ordered this), it is columns of about 10 squares alternating with rectangles measuring 1 square high by 10 squares wide alternating across the page from left to right. Certainly not what my daughter’s science class called for! Not worth the hassle of returning - I’ll find a use for the notebook, but it won’t be for what I ordered it. VERY disappointed.

I was looking for plain jane graph paper when I ordered this. While it will work for its intended purpose, I was really looking for paper that had 1/8 to 1/4 inch boxes over the complete page. I either misread or misunderstood the descripion because this has columns of graph boxes separated by lines that could be used to write descitions, etc. Because this was part of a gift to a gardening enthusiast, I no longer have it in front of me, be if memory serves, the column of boxes were about an inch or so wide with 4 or 5 of such columns across the page. If you are just seeking plain graph paper, this is not what you want.

Graph paper inside was not standard size. Boxes were uneven in size. Not sure if this was a special type of graph paper or just an irregular. Either way it was unusable for my use.

Exactly as described.

My son needs this for school

Very useful

Just what it says!

Excellent
